Save the Animals

Many animals on Earth are under threat now. In the future, some species may not exist anymore.

First, many animals are killed by hunters for money. For example, tiger skin is used to make fur coat. Second, animals lose their homes when trees are cut down and the forests are destroyed.

We have to take actions in daily life now to save the animals. We ought to use less paper and not to buy products made from animal parts. Let's work hand in hand to save the animals.
