Dictation (2)

Part A: Paragraph (100% @3%)

Natural Disasters

Typhoons cause flooding so people can't drink the water because it isn't clean. Flooding destroys everything.

Earthquake is the shaking of the ground. It causes damage to tall buildings and houses. Then many people have to live in tents. Some people don't have enough money so they can't afford the money to rebuild their houses.

When there is a drought, there isn't any water in the soil. So the plants can't grow. People don't have much food so they become sick or even die of hunger.
